

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In dry etching process wherein a substrate having a multi-layer film is etched, the etching process is monitored by determining a layer being processed. CHF₃ gas is added to the processing gas during a period from the time when the lowermost layer on the substrate is etched until the etching is completed.

TOP SECRET